A severe tornado visited the vicinity of Columbia, Tenn., on Tuesday of last week, doing considerable damage to the stock and buildings. It is reported that the roof of Gen. Pillow's residence was blown off, and that several head of stock on his place was killed by the falling timber. The Nashville Banner adds: "During the storm of Tuesday considerable damage was done in some sections of Rutherford county. Barns and outhouses were unroofed and fences blown down. The storm was so severe as to uproot trees of the largest size."

In St. Louis, the other day, a curious scene was enacted, which illustrates the value to which articles of comparatively little worth sometimes attain through ageand association. An old bedstead, which was imported from France many years ago, by the late Pierre Chouteau, and which was the first of the kind brought to that city, was put up for sale. The bids commenced at five dollars and gradually mounted up until the enormous sum of nine hundred and fifty dollars was reached, at which figure it was finally knocked down to Mr. Chouteau Maffit.

An Alabamian, writing from Richmond to the Petersburg Express, says that, prior to leaving home, he had eaten no meat for three weeks; that many of his neighbors were absolutely starving, and were living on rats, and in some cases compelled to devour even snakes. He was then en route t New York, where he hoped, by mortgaging his own plantation and those of several neighbors at one-fifth of their value, to procure the means of averting for a time absolute starvation from his immediate community.

There was considerable excitement and disturbance in Nashville last Sunday, caused by a large concourse of negroes congregating on Cedar street and taking forcible possession of the street cars. In spite of all remonstrance and persuasion on the part of the drivers and conductors, the crowd, headed by Wade Hickman and Buck Lewis, forced entrances into the vehicles, excluding the whites. The negroes were boisterous and insulting, swearing they would ride despite all railroad rules and officials in the world. Excitement was great in the city, but no violence, fortunately, resulted from the occurrence. The Banner of Tuesday says: "For some weeks the question of admitting colored people to the cars on the street railways has been agitating the minds of a number of the archdisturbers and restless demagogues who are striving to lead them into every species of folly and nonsense, and pulling every string to bring about a collision between the whites and blacks, that a little capital may be made."

Mr. Dempsey Weaver, Cashier of the Planters' Bank, was attacked by three or four ruffians between four and five o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday last, some two miles from Nashville, out on the Murfreesboro Pike. He was riding home at the time according to his custom. The robbers dragged him from his buggy, took his pocket book, containing fifteen dollars, his watch, and all the stray bits of jewelry about his person, even to the gold studs in his shirt bosom. They then bound him with cords and threw him helpless in the bushes, telling him if he remained quiet they would return after nightfall and unbind him. After some time Mr. Weaver succeeded in loosing himself, and found his buggy down the pike some distance. A discharged Federal soldier, named John Grant, was arrested by the police in Nashville on Monday, in a bagnio, proving to be one of the robbers, the watch and buttons being found on his person.

THE FRANKLIN BUTCHERY.

Meeting of the Citizens of Franklin County Last Monday.

They Petition the Government for Federal Aid.

The Full Atrocity of the Brown Murder Brought to Light.

When and Where and How it was Done.

From the Nashville Banner of Wednesday.

From the Franklin county meeting Monday, we have a full report—the entire proceedings of which are given below. On Saturday the officers of Rickman's command stated to different persons that they were ordered to Winchester, to reach there at midnight. This, it was believed, was for the purpose of arresting some leading citizens, whom they had threatened. Not reaching there on Saturday night, they stated to different persons they would be there at eleven o'clock Sunday night, and hence among the people there was some anxiety about it. They did not go, and on Monday, one of the largest meetings ever held in the county assembled.

In being an adjourned meeting, F. A. Loughmiller took the Chair, and W. J. Slatter acted as Secretary.

When the people had all come together in the court yard, Colonel A. S. Marks, on behalf of the committee, composed of himself and Henry Singleton, Thomas H. Pryor and W. J. Slatter, rose, and, after explaining that at a former meeting this committee had been appointed to prepare a petition to the President of the United States, setting forth their grievances and praying protection, said they had prepared the petition and would now proceed to read the same, with the proof thereof. The petition and the affidavits were read.

The petition is as follows:

To the President of the United States:

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: We, the people of Franklin county, Tennessee, having assembled ourselves peaceably in solemn convention, beg leave, under the favor of your Excellency, to submit a brief statement of our heavy grievances, and, in all proper submission, humbly petition for their redress.

As is well known to your Excellency, it was our misfortune to adhere with unconvention unanimity and tenacity to the fortunes of the late unhappy rebellion, and in so doing we but followed the theory that after the struggle was over we returned to our allegiance to the Government of our fathers with a unanimity no less remarkable. As a people, we have attempted to demonstrate the truth of our profession of loyalty by the most scrupulous observance of the laws and the exercise of the most respectful obedience to the constited authorities. Impressed, however, by the distinct declaration by the propriety of our conduct that it has been the constant observation that, in industry and good order, we are far in advance of any period of our past history. We have invited among us and dividued our lands with Northern men representing every shade of political sentiment; and we have a large number of colored people among us, who were our former slaves, and who have cheerfully conceded to them every right we have, or claim for ourselves. Although we are almost unanimous in our political sentiment and action, yet we have uniformly accorded to those who differed with us, without reference to their race or color, the utmost freedom of speech and action upon all questions. We have stood quietly by and heard both white and colored speakers denounce us as criminals, unworthy the confidence or associations of honest men, and have heard them appeal to the ignorance and prejudices of our former slaves in order to arouse their enmity toward us. But, notwithstanding all this, and more, our abundant discretion and patriotic purpose have not allowed a single breach of the peace to occur, nor the slightest injury to any man of any color on account of his political sentiment or action. For the truth of all this, we challenge the most rigid investigation.

Remembering that we were peculiarly distinguished by our misfortunes, we were not surprised that we were regarded with distrust by the State authorities existing at the close of the late war, but we indulged a confident hope, that by a course of exemplary conduct we would be able to disarm all suspicion, and commend ourselves to the good opinion of all men.

We have not wearied in the prosecution of our laudable purpose, but with unremitting solicitude we have earnestly labored for that consummation that notwithstanding our commendable purpose and exemplary conduct our misfortunes have steadily increased until the oppressions which weigh us down have become parallel among any people who have claim to civilization.

In verification of this statement, we respectfully show your Excellency that with the citizens of our State in general we submitted patiently to the destruction of all our political rights, trusting that a returning sense of justice would bring us ultimate relief; nor have we murmured because our civil rights have been infracted; but on the contrary, we have been learned away from the jury box and submitted to many other illiberal discriminations, without protest. Union men who live amongst us, men who are tried and true, men who were in the thickest of the fight under the banner of the Union, have been denied our offices, simply because they loved liberty and hated oppression; and strangers have been appointed to our elective offices without warrant of law, and as they owed their place to a power whose heart was set against us as a people, it has been their purpose to discover how they might annoy and oppress us, rather than to find how to promote the public welfare.

Your Excellency having been personally acquainted with us as a people, and knowing how dearly we loved our rights and how jealously we guarded them, can appreciate how exquisitely we felt their loss; but, notwithstanding all this, we were content to bear our wrongs in silence, and we would not trouble your Excellency now with our grievances, were it not that the iron heel of despotism upon our necks may no longer be borne.

All that is left us is our lives and our little property, and although our interest since the war is without reproach, as we have shown your Excellency, yet our rulers affecting to question our loyalty have organized a band of reckless, dissolute and irresponsible men, and turned them loose to do their will upon us. We submitted to their humiliating threatenings, being determined to do no act that would afford them a pretext to rob them of native inherited is should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Young Lady Returning to her Country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the city, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, flushed face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three, she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the Gennacus Balm, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any lady's toilet. By its use any lady or gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in clearing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying, the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticle it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the surface, and leaving the skin as

A VALUABLE

PLANTATION & LANDING FOR SALE

In Sumter County, Alabama.

I AM authorized to sell for cash, at private sale, the plantation known as the MOSLEY PLACE, together with all necessary mules and farming implements for cultivating the same.

The well known landing called Moscow is on the plantation. The land lies in the forks of the Tombeckbee and Sumpanhoke streets, within fourteen miles of Livingston, fifteen miles of Demopolis and three miles of Coatopa Station, on the Selma and Meridian railroad, and contains one acre more or less, on of which is well timbered, the other portion in a good state of cultivation. It has a clay foundation, and is well adapted to the growth of cotton, or any other southern productions.

On the Mosley place there is a good dwelling house, excellent house, a new gin house and screw, all necessary outbuildings, a fine orchard, and the fencing in good repair.

SATURDAY, : : : : : : : : JUNE 8, 1867

TO THE PEOPLE OF WEST TENNESSEE.

HON. EMERSON ETHERIDGE, Conservative candidate for Governor, will address the people of West Tennessee at the following time and places:

Purdy, Saturday, June 15th.
Bolivar, Monday, June 17th.
Jackson, Tuesday, June 18th.
Humboldt, Thursday, June 20th.
Dresden, Saturday, June 22d.

Papers of the district are requested to publish the above list of appointments.

HISTORY gives an account of a river which rises, rippies along its meandering course, then disappears under ground; then rises and disappears alternately, until it is lost in the sea of waters. HENRY S. FOOTE reminds us of this celebrated stream. He rises to the surface in one part of the Union, then he sinks into obscurity, and pops up in another place when he is least expected and never wanted. He is a bird of passage. He reminds us of the sand hill crane, which changes its locality with every shifty breeze. We hear Lim gobbling at one time in California, and at another chirping in Memphis. Then he twitters in Nashville, and we next hear of him spluttering in Richmond, where he turns traitor to his cause, and it was hoped he had sought refuge in some dark cave where he could hide his blushes. But the denuded woman finally losses all sense of shame, and hardened villiany forgets how to blush, and the irrepressible FOOTE turns up in New York, like the spring toy in the box which bounces up with a sudden spring when the lead has been removed. But Gotham was too small a place for a man who had taken the boundless universe as his theater, and we next hear of FOOTE in Louisville, Kentucky. Having adopted a regular system for locating and removing, he kept his eye on the town clock and left Louisville one minute and three seconds ahead of his usual time. The public was a little curious to see what place was next to be scourged with the mendicant. The denizens of every village and city forgot the cholera in their fear of that worse disease—HENRY S. FOOTE. At one time it was reported that Chicago was to be the doomed city, and plethoric Aldermen were seen waddling about, fumigating back alleys and watercloseta. FOOTE, however, was a little behind time in selecting a new home, and people began to believe that some accommodating philanthropist had thrown him into the Barathrum, others flattered themselves into the happy belief that he had fully gratified his malice towards mankind and had fled to Botany Bay, that famous receptacle for broken down party hacks. But for some unknown cause FOOTE seems to have a grudge against the people of St. Louis—a people who have never harmed him in any way, and he is there tormenting them almost to death with his excruciating gab. A whale cannot live without spouting, and FOOTE would explode if he did not occasionally raise his safety valve and let off a portion of his surplus gas. He darts at every new vagary, like a hungry trout at a minnow, and when we saw him speaking in St. Louis we were a little curious to learn what hallucination had set his tongue agoing—and we find him stealing his friend ANNIE DICKINSON'S thunder, by advocating the right of woman to vote! The strongest and most unanswerable argument against this assumption of right consists in the fact that FOOTE favors it. When people desire to know what is not right they must study FOOTE—look to him and interpret by contraries, as the Irish interpret their dreams. A knowledge of his position is as essential to good men as a life boat to safe navigation, or a scarecrow in a corn field.

Seriously, the question of female suffrage is about to become one of great importance. We believe that women will be allowed to vote in many of the Northern States before the expiration of five years. It will be a pretty spectacle to see a strong minded woman harranguing a gaping crowd or squabbling at the ballot box, while the husband is at home darning stockings, making night caps, baking bread and rocking the cradle. Upon this subject there are two opinions, neither of which are correct when carried to the extreme. One originated with the sayages and is barbarous. The other has been conceived in the evil brain of the busy fanatical agitators, who propose to reform the world by fanciful theories, visionary abstractions and the heresies and isms which have so long made the North the laughing stock of the world. The idea on the one hand, that woman was created to be a slave drudge, the servant of man; that she had no rights beyond that of security of life and limb; that she was created merely to superintend household arrangements, to cook, wash, bake, and the like, for which she was to receive food and clothing merely—all property belonging to the husband—all this has long since exploded. The other theory, that woman are not only equal to men in capacity, but ought to be precisely like men; that they were designed to be of another sex, and destined in common with them to engage in masculine employments, duties and avocations, has no foundation to rest upon. Both these extremes are in the wrong. The one had its origin in tyranny and selfishness, the other in weakness, fanaticism and folly. No man can lead a feminine life, although so many make the effort to do so; nor can a woman become masculine in her habits without forfeiting the rights appertaining to woman. To enjoy women's rights she must confine herself to woman's sphere. An exemplification of this occurred in an incident which we saw published in the newspapers several months ago. The circumstance took place in a railroad car. A female, whose costume indicated strong mindedness—that is, a strong mind to have her own way—demanded of the conductor that a gentleman, whom she pointed out, should be made to give up his seat for her accommodation. "Does this person advocate the doctrine of woman's rights?" asked the gentleman; "does she claim to share equally with the men in all their privileges?" "She does," was the answer. "Then," said the other, "she must be content to be treated as a man, and find a seat for herself as we have to do." In this judgment we heartily agree. If women are to take upon themselves the sterner duties of the other sex, if they are to vote, make laws, lead armies, control empires, directly and personally, they must be content to be jostled and share with the men, all our rude discomforts and serious inconveniences. A woman who does not act as a woman cannot expect the deference and courtesy, the chivalry and devotion due to her sex. If she becomes masculine in her habits and tastes, she must be content to be treated as one man treats another.

Let women deny that she is weak and needs support—that she is feeble and needs protection; let her once assert her equality in every respect with men, and she throws herself at once upon her own resources and battles her way along the crowded thoroughfares of human life unaided and alone. If she casts aside the crowning glory of true womanhood, she can no longer claim its privileges, immunities and rights. As a woman she has inalienable rights, but they are her rights only as a woman. As a woman, she has the right to our highest love, admiration and respect; the right to our protection, kindness, courtesy, and these she will always secure in civilized society. These are rights which no one will dare to deny her. They are her rights as a woman, and in no other sense. If woman claims man's rights in addition to her own, she must not only abandon her own, but must submit to the hardships and privations of his. She must hereafter take her equal chance with us as to obtaining the best seats at a concert, a lecture, or in a crowded church.

WE learn from the Knoxville Commercial that Mr. ETHERIDGE'S triumph at Greenville Monday was complete and overwhelming. STOKES, poor fellow, was so unmercifully chastised on the previous Saturday that he returned to his own district and gave up the contest with disgust. He has gone to the mountains, where, secure from the cruel torture of our standard bearer, he can pursue the even tenor of his course and vulgar speech—free at least from the penalties which his encounter with ETHERIDGE have so frightfully entailed. MAYNARD, the consequential coxcomb, occupied STOKES' place, and never was there a man so terribly mangled and irrevocably flayed. He displayed less endurance than STOKES, and run after one encounter in the main. He returned to his home on the first train. After the discussion a beautiful young lady—Miss PRY—advanced and presented Mr. ETHERIDGE with a beautiful bouquet, which was appropriately recognized. A buxom lady of color then advanced and decorated MAYNARD with a similar testimonial. Poor MAYNARD was nonplussed and confused, but regaining his composure, succeeded in making a speech appropriate, or otherwise, in which he reminded the donor of the flowers that a rose coming from her would smell quite as sweet as if presented by any one else—some think more so. His poetry:

"A rose smells as sweet, presented by this hand,
As if it were given by the fairest in the land."

We learn from Radical sources that an insignificant creature named HOUK, who occupies a place on the bench in East Tennessee, attempted to speak at Greenville after the discussion between Messrs. ETHERIDGE and MAYNARD, in denunciation of President JOHNSON. The old fellow citizens of the President could not tolerate so impudent and arrogant an assumption, and interrupted him, so the Radical accounts say, with continued jeers and groans. They also represent that some thirty or forty shots were fired at him and his Radical friends; but all this must be taken cum grano salis. It is evidently an effort to make a great martyr out of HOUK. MAYNARD was denounced, we also learn from the same sources, as a liar, on the stand, by a Conservative clergyman. The Narragansett Chieftain did not resent it. Mr. ETHERIDGE spoke at Jonesboro, to a large crowd, on Tuesday. The Radicals had no champion present except HOUK, with whom Mr. ETHERIDGE declined to have any association, MAYNARD and STOKES having ingloriously fled.

Thomas Taylor and Albert Gan, convicted of the murder of Captain Harris, in Gallatin, Tennessee, early in 1865, have been sentenced to be hanged on the 12th of July.

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.

Maximilian Said to Have Been Shot.

The Brownsville Ranchero, of the 29th ultimo, says: "At five o'clock yesterday morning, there arrived in this city an officer of Maximilian's, taken prisoner at Queretaro, who afterwards made his escape. He said that Maximilian was taken out at seven o'clock on the morning of the 16th, together with several of his Generals, to be shot, and that he, the prisoner, during the excitement, made his escape."

For the Memphis Avalanche:

POCAHONTAS, TENN., June 2, 1867.

COLONEL M. C. GALLAWAY—Dear Sir: It is high time our Conservative friends were thoroughly organized in this Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Hardin, McNairy and Hardeman. The Radicals have already nominated that vile and worthless demagogue, John Aldridge, famous as the meanest and most ignorant member of our State Senate. He is a weak man, and a ventilation of his record would be of much service to our party. We have abundant material for a leader in this district—men of talent and sterling integrity. In this county we have Colonel Joseph L. Rasson—everybody knows him, and he is popular. In McNairy county we have J. F. Huddleston, Esq., a lawyer of fine ability, and very powerful on the stump; also James Warren, who is "the noblest Roman of them all." And in Hardin county, Judge Walker would make us an able Senator. We ought to organize at once. Blindedge is gaining steadily here, and Brownlow is not even counted in the race. Yours, respectfully,

OLD CITIZEN.

RALEIGH.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 7.

The President and party attended the commencement exercises of the University at Chapel Hill yesterday. They were escorted from here by a procession including the scholars, officers of the institution, and the Governor of the State. Before the exercises commenced the number of the pupils was five hundred, but at present there are not more than one hundred. A ball was given by the graduating class last night, and was attended by a portion of the Presidential party. The President and suite left Chapel Hill this morning on their return trip, and were received with marked hospitality and respect, but the public demonstration has been calm and composed as those of the North on his former reception occasions. The excursion so far has been very pleasant to all concerned. The President leaves for Washington in the morning.

IN MEMORIAM.

MRS. BETTIE RANDOLPH MEADE GRANT, died at the town of Oxford, Mississippi, on the 25th ult. Having been born on the 22d of October, 1821, she was at the time of her death in her forty-sixth year. Mrs. Grant was the daughter of Dr. Richard E. Meade, of Amelia county, Virginia. In 1841 she became the wife of General Pryor M. Grant, of Coahoma county, Mississippi. Mrs. Grant removed after the close of the war to Oxford, in order to complete the education of her children. She had not been long in the place when, whether from change of climate or other cause, she was struck down by the hand of the Destroyer. The qualities of her descent and her grace of manner, illuminated by a vivacious spirit and handsome person, were combined with a high intelligence, and served to make her death a painful blow to her wide circle of neighbors and friends. Having lived in Coahoma county for a number of years almost isolated from female society, it was a wonder to those who knew her that her natural and acquired grace should not only have been maintained, but improved to such a marked degree as to favor the administration of her most intelligent acquaintances, and to have made her so much of a favorite with all who knew the quiet charms of her soul, she fell in the harness of a loving duty; a devoted mother and a faithful wife. A Christian woman, she had learned in the bosom of the Episcopal Church that in being caught from her duties here, she but exchanged them for even purer and holier ones in the land where the weary are at rest. Her children—three sons and two daughters—inherit much of the personal and mental lineaments of their mother. For this cause however, let no one mourn, but rather let us direct our sympathies to those motherless ones that she had pointed on the way to virtue and honor; and looking beyond them give our still more earnest condolence to him, the bereaved, who had been the pride and glory of her life. A FRIEND.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Died, on Friday evening, June 7th, at six o'clock, Mrs. JENNIE E., wife of J. G. Davis, and daughter of the late John Y. and Mrs. C. C. Baylis. Paving Streets.

BE it ordained by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Memphis:

SECTION 1. That there shall be issued City Bonds with interest coupons attached, to the amount of $60,000 for the purpose of paving the streets and alleys of the city, which shall be denominated "Paving Bonds."

Sec. 2. A Board of Paving Trustees shall be appointed by the Mayor, with the advice and consent of the Board of Aldermen, to be called the "Board of Paving Trustees," and shall be appointed to serve until January, 1868, 1870 and 1871; the term of service of each to be determined by lot, and they shall be eligible to re-election.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of said Board of Trustees to receive such portion of the revenue of the city as shall be paid these by the City Treasurer, and to disburse the same in the following manner: 1st. To pay the interest on the bonds herein provided to be issued, as the same becomes due. 2d. To invest any balance in hand in the first days after the first receipts of taxes, and to return the bonds and coupons thus retired to the City Controller, who shall cancel the same.

Sec. 4. The City Treasurer shall pay over weekly to said Board Trustees one sixth of his receipts from revenue, beginning on the second day of January, 1868, and ending on the [illegible] of [illegible]—shall have been paid.

Sec. 5. said Trustees shall each enter into bond in the penal sum of $——— for the faithful discharge of the duties prescribed in this ordinance, and shall receive for compensation such salary as shall be allowed by the Board of Aldermen.

Sec. 6. At any time thirty days after the final issue of said bonds, the Mayor shall, by proclamation, order an election to test the sense of the qualified voters of the city of Memphis as to the issuance of the amount of paving bonds provided for by this ordinance in accordance with the provisions of the city charter.

Passed May 31, and approved June 1, 1867.

City Pound.

Be it ordained by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Memphis:

SECTION 1. That from and after the passage of this ordinance it shall be unlawful for the owners of dogs, hogs, goats or stock of any description, (except milch cows) to allow them to run at large throughout the city.

Sec. 2. The Board of Mayor and Aldermen shall elect a pound keeper every year, or as often as may be necessary, whose duty it shall be to establish a pound within the corporate limits of the city, in which he may impound all stock found running at large throughout the city.

Sec. 3. Said pound keeper may charge not exceeding fifty cents a head per day for dogs, goats and hogs, and not exceeding one dollar per head per day, if called for by the owner, for all other stock impounded, as a remuneration for his services in establishing and keeping up said pound, and shall feed and take proper care of all animals in said pound.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of said pound keeper to keep a book in which he shall enter a description and kind of each animal that may be impounded in said pound, the date of each and day said animals are enclosed; and a list of the description and kind of all animals in said pound, and the time they were placed therein, shall be posted up at each police station, every twelve hours. Said book shall at all times be open for the inspection of any Mayor and any member of the Board of Aldermen and Police Commissioners.

Sec. 5. Said pound keeper may have stock or any animal in said pound may, on proving his or her property, and paying the charges, take the same away, and the pound keeper shall take no name and residence of every person to whom stock of any kind is delivered, the description of the animal or animals, the time when taken away, and the amount paid by them to the keeper for keeping said animal or animals so taken.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of the City Scavenger to destroy all dogs not restrained in five days after having been impounded, and all animals impounded not redeemed in ten days may be sold for the benefit of the city.

Sec. 7. Said pound keeper shall enter into bonds in the sum of five thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties.

Sec. 8. All ordinances or parts of ordinances coming in conflict with any of the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Approved June 6, 1867.

The Buntyn

HOMESTEAD LANDS

FOR SALE.

WE have the pleasure of placing on the market these very desirable and valuable lands, so well known to the community as the Homestead Tract of the late Geraldus Buntyn, Esq., situated at the first station on the Memphis & Charleston railroad, five miles east of the city. The improvements, with about twenty acres of land, have been recently added to Rhea P. Hill, Esq., who now resides upon the premises. The balance of the tract, consisting of about 600 acres, has been laid off in lots varying in size from five to ten acres, fronting upon broad avenues, and laid off so as to secure the greatest amount of comfort. The soil is of the finest quality, and the location will afford the opportunity of going in and out of the city, morning and evening, so that persons can live in the country and have a residence at this point almost as convenient as to live in the city itself.

The choice can now be had of lots wholly or part in original tract, or in detail.

IN EXCHANGE FOR CITY PROPERTY.

The executors are directed by the will to sell this place and invest in city property, and are will prepared to entertain propositions to exchange for either improved or vacant lots in the city.

To all parties looking for a suburban residence, we do not think any property more desirable can be found in regard to health, convenience or good neighborhood, within the same distance from the city.

The terms will be made very liberal and easy, and the prices low to parties desirous of buying for occupation.

Plans of the subdivision will be shown at our office.

We learn from a dispatch to Colonel W. T. Avery of this city that the distinguished jurist, Hon. Joseph Henry Lumpkin, of Georgia, died at his residence in Athens, Ga., on the morning of the 4th inst. Judge Lumpkin had for many years adorned the bench of the Supreme Court of the State of Georgia, and was at the time of his death Chief Justice of that Court. He was one of the purest lawyers as well as one of the purest men, not only of his native State, but of the nation. His loss to both will be irreparable.

Raffle.

A pair of elegant, well matched horses (dapple grey), five and six years old, a fine open buggy with pole and shafts, and a double set of fine harness, all complete, will be raffled for at Harry Weatherbee's saloon, 31 Jefferson street, at half past eight o'clock this evening. Ticket holders are hereby notified to be on hand.

ALWAYS AHEAD.—New styles of hats at Miller & Leidy's, opposite Court Square. 7t

MERIDIAN GRAND TOURNAMENT.—Our thanks are tendered for a kind invitation to be present at the grand tournament, coronation and fancy dress ball at Meridian, Mississippi, on June 13th. It will doubtless be a gay and brilliant affair. Three handsome prizes are offered, and a long list of gallant gentlemen constituting the managers of the affair give assurance that it will be attended by a very large representation of the chivalry and beauty of Mississippi and Tennessee. The orators of the day are to be General B. Y. Ramsey, Hon. Wiley P. Harris, and Major Henry St. Paul.

EDITORS AVALANCHE:—Having noticed in your issue of this date an account of the fatal consequences caused by the careless use of copper vessels in the manufacture of ice cream, and many unjust suspicions having on this account fallen on several dealers, who, though innocent, suffer thereby, we, the undersigned, deem it proper to state that the utmost care and cleanliness is observed at our establishments, and cream frozen in tin freezers, thereby rendering it impossible for any such occurrences to happen. We likewise deem it an act of justice that the name of the offending party be published.

Respectfully,

A pair of mules has been stolen from Peter White.

Jacob Hooley is charged with stealing cloth worth forty dollars.

John Foster, a bricklayer, fell from a house yesterday, and was badly hurt.

Mike Walters is charged with forging.

C. Solomons is to be tried on the charge of hauling a black man into his store and snatching $250 from him.

Brown, charged with being one of Sullivan's murderers, was yesterday held in $5,000 bail. Smith, also charged with the same, is to have an examination to-day.

The anniversary of the Tabernacle Baptist church Sabbath school is to be celebrated by a picnic today.

We thank Messrs. Mansfield & Higbee for their kind invitation to the opening day of their magnificent Polar soda fountain arrangements.

It is said that very important reforms have been effected in the County Poor House.

A match game between the first nines of the Enterprise and Mechanics' base ball clubs, comes off to-day, and will attract a great many spectators.

The residence of Colonel R. C. Graves, in Chelsea, was entered on Thursday night by three burglars, two men and a boy, who carried off a valuable gold watch, a revolver, and $300 in money. When the Colonel reported the matter to the police station, they laughed at it as a very good joke.

The house of officer John Hintchie was entered by burglars on Thursday night, and $1,000 in money and a gold watch taken.

Somebody's profits must have been big yesterday if all that was stolen paid its commission.

The annual fete of the Old Folks will be given on the second Thursday in July, at Buntyn's Station, a pretty sylvan locality on the line of the Memphis and Charleston railroad, and less than a half hour's ride from the city. No picnic of the season will have a more social character or be in all respects more delightful.

John Zimmerman is charged with stealing a gold watch from Henry Muns, on Front row. Muns being, at the time, a little overcome "wid de drink."

James Crofts is one of the meanest married men in Memphis, if it is the fact that, after being unwell for months and most kindly nursed by his matrimonial partner, he signalized his return to health by stealing $122 from her and making his escape. He was captured and is now in durance vile.

The house of Mrs. Goodwyn, on Third street, between Poplar and Market streets, was entered by burglars on Thursday night and $150 worth of goods carried off.

Quite a number of persons were made unwell by eating of the same ice cream that affected the gentlemen of the Merchants' National Bank. They are all doing well. The poisoning was entirely accidental, but shows the care necessary in making cream and letting it stand in a copper apparatus. No ice cream made yesterday in the same freezer, and can vouch that it wouldn't make anybody sick.

Mansfield & Higbee invited the National Typographical Convention to partake of their polar soda waters, and the boys return their thanks for the generous courtesy.

We are compelled by want of space to omit this morning a long description of the Lee Academy annual fete. It was a brilliant and most successful affair. The house crowded, the performances well gotten up and interesting—the whole affair creditable alike to the taste, dramatic ability and accomplishments of the pretty members of Mrs. Morgan's troupe.

A number of the barbers of Memphis have signed a petition to the Board of Mayor and Aldermen not to order the closing of their places on Sunday mornings, as their being open is a convenience to many customers, and never disturbs any religious observance of Sunday. It seems that the petition for closing was gotten up for selfish considerations, and the names of Ned Adams and others who are opposed to such arbitrary closing were forged to it.

A soldier who served four years in the Federal army and was honorably discharged applied recently to King Davis for registration. "Have you ever voted?" said Davis. "Never," was the response. "Are you a loyal man?" continued Davis. "Yes, and a good Democrat, who likes Andy Johnson," replied the applicant for registration. "Where have you proved your loyalty?" continued the King. "Why here you never did, on the battle field," was the reply. "Have you an honorable discharge?" said Davis. Wishing to see how far the arrogance of this petty king would go, the soldier replied, "Yes, but it is at Washington with my papers; but I can show you my claim agent's receipt for it—can bring the claim agent here to swear that he sent it on to Washington." "I won't register you," said King Davis. The soldier having tested how far Davis would go in rejecting soldiers who were not loyal enough to suit him, drew out his honorable discharge from his pocket and proof of service published in many battle fields, and with a very ill grace Davis gave him a certificate of registration.

JOHN GASTON'S LADIES' RESTAURANT, No. 44 ADAMS STREET.—This magnificent and popular establishment still continues to accumulate an increase of deserved success. Yesterday was one of its most flattering days. Its well ventilated and cool saloons were decorated with the presence of many of the fairest ladies that the city and county can boast. The ladies have discovered its convenience, and those from the country, who come to town to spend a day to shop, do not dream of going anywhere else to get their lunches or dine. Our city ladies also adopt the advantages it affords to their own delectation, and delight to patronize Monsieur Gaston's elegant saloon, his unrivaled cuisine and the courteous disposition with which his magnificent bill of fare is dispensed. We go over the Memphis and Northern and Southern markets afford Monsieur Gaston has without reference to expense. His motto is "Excelsior," and that he will accomplish let it cost what it may.

POISONED ICE CREAM.—Our readers have doubtless read in yesterday's AVALANCHE of the poisoning of several gentlemen connected with a city bank by partaking of ice cream which was poisoned by being prepared in a copper freezer. The compounders of the AVALANCHE return their thanks to B. Rocco, 216 Main street, for a liberal supply of that delightful commodity, which they all unanimously aver was not poisoned, as they were still living, and after partaking of which they were as much refreshed as ever was the god Ateus from the embraces of his mother Earth. It was perfectly delicious, and as cold as the Arctic regions; and, together with some exquisite fruit cake, luscious strawberries, and sundry bottles of genuine Scotch ale, made up a feast to which the enjoyment capable of being elicited by partaking of the nectar and ambrosia of the gods was poor in comparison. The exquisitely flavored Havana cigars accompanying the feast were enjoyed with as much zest as the rest, and to smoke one would have made a convert of even the Rev. Mr. Trask himself.

We learn from a dispatch to Colonel W. T. Avery of this city that the distinguished jurist, Hon. Joseph Henry Lumpkin, of Georgia, died at his residence in Athens, Ga., on the morning of the 4th inst. Judge Lumpkin had for many years adorned the bench of the Supreme Court of the State of Georgia, and was at the time of his death Chief Justice of that Court. He was one of the purest lawyers as well as one of the purest men, not only of his native State, but of the nation. His loss to both will be irreparable.

Raffle.

A pair of elegant, well matched horses (dapple grey), five and six years old, a fine open buggy with pole and shafts, and a double set of fine harness, all complete, will be raffled for at Harry Weatherbee's saloon, 31 Jefferson street, at half past eight o'clock this evening. Ticket holders are hereby notified to be on hand.

ALWAYS AHEAD.—New styles of hats at Miller & Leidy's, opposite Court Square. 7t

MERIDIAN GRAND TOURNAMENT.—Our thanks are tendered for a kind invitation to be present at the grand tournament, coronation and fancy dress ball at Meridian, Mississippi, on June 13th. It will doubtless be a gay and brilliant affair. Three handsome prizes are offered, and a long list of gallant gentlemen constituting the managers of the affair give assurance that it will be attended by a very large representation of the chivalry and beauty of Mississippi and Tennessee. The orators of the day are to be General B. Y. Ramsey, Hon. Wiley P. Harris, and Major Henry St. Paul.

EDITORS AVALANCHE:—Having noticed in your issue of this date an account of the fatal consequences caused by the careless use of copper vessels in the manufacture of ice cream, and many unjust suspicions having on this account fallen on several dealers, who, though innocent, suffer thereby, we, the undersigned, deem it proper to state that the utmost care and cleanliness is observed at our establishments, and cream frozen in tin freezers, thereby rendering it impossible for any such occurrences to happen. We likewise deem it an act of justice that the name of the offending party be published.

Respectfully,
L. ROCCO & CO.,

MEMPHIS, June 7, 1867.

THE NATIONAL TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

Fifth and Last Day's Proceedings.

The National Typographical Union reassembled in the Chamber of Commerce, Odd Fellows' Hall, at ten o'clock a.m. yesterday, pursuant to adjournment.

At the hour the President, John H. Oberly, took the chair and called the body to order, when the Secretary proceeded to call the roll and announced a quorum present.

The minutes of the business of the preceding day were read and approved.

Mr. Cavis, from the Committee on Special Resolutions, submitted the following, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The business of the fifteenth annual meeting of the National Typographical Union having been completed, the body about to adjourn, and the delegates to separate, it is proper to give expression to sentiments of gratitude to the craft and public of Memphis for the assiduous attention and demonstrative respect and good will by which the meeting has been successfully prosecuted, its objects harmonized, and challenged respect and sympathy that was shown by the one through its committees of reception and arrangements, in personal attention and business facilities, by the public in unstinted social courtesies and amenities, so that absence from home was for the moment forgotten by delegates in new ties of friendship, and legislation consummated highly conservative of the well being of our organization; therefore Resolved, 1. That the heartiness of greeting by Memphis Union No. 11, where the mighty waters lave the banks of its city, has been full and overflowing, making legislation a success and causing momentarily forgetfulness of the loved ones at home.

2. That the thanks of the National Typographical Union are hereby extended to Rev. Mr. Capers on and Rev. Mr. Miller for opening the sessions with prayer.

3. That the thanks of the National Typographical Union are hereby tendered to the press of Memphis for manifest attentions, favors and interest in its objects and success.

4. That the thanks of the National Typographical Union be hereby extended to the reportorial corps of Memphis for comprehensive abstracts of proceedings and evident sympathy in its objects and labors.

5. That the liberality, courtesy and hospitality extended the delegates by S. B. Robbins, the gentlemanly proprietor of the Overton Hotel, his genial and polite son, George S. Robbins, A. C. Barlow and N. D. Main, his gentlemanly and accomplished assistants, merit and receive this expression of appreciation.

6. That the excursion of Saturday night upon the Mississippi on the steamer Dan Able, planned and carried out by a committee of arrangements of Memphis Union No. 11, the graceful trippings of fair woman and brave men, the banquet, and all the pleasant social incidents attending the trip, will be held in grateful remembrance.

7. That we part from our Memphis brothers with regret, assuaged by hope that the inspirations of this session in their city may conserve the permanent interests of No. 11.

8. That as the world was incomplete, lacking woman to crown the wonders of a new sphere, so would defect mark our record of thanks should we omit expression of proper appreciation of the presence on the excursion of the fair wives and daughters of the craft in Memphis, by which a floating palace clustered into one vast home all earthly objects of social affection.

Adopted unanimously.

The Chair then being assumed by Vice President Hammond, the same also submitted the following, which was adopted by a standing vote.

Resolved, That the thanks of the delegates to the National Convention are eminently due to the prominent officers of the body for fidelity and unflagging interest in discharge of their duty, and in a boundless measure to John H. Oberly, of Cairo Union No. 74, President, and Alexander Troup, of New York Union No. 6, Secretary and Treasurer, whose energy, zeal, intelligence, etc., have infused new vitality into the organization.

Adopted unanimously.

In response to the foregoing, President Oberly addressed the body relative to the successful manner in which the business of the session had been disposed of, and gracefully acknowledged the personal compliment bestowed upon himself.

On motion, it was resolved that when the Union adjourn, it be sine die.

It was moved and carried that the Secretary and Treasurer be given discretionary power in the compilation and collating of the minutes for publication.

On motion of Mr. Cavis, the Union next proceeded to the election of officers under the new constitutional provisions, which resulted as follows:

President—John H. Oberly, of Cairo, re-elected.

Vice President—D. C. Morris, of Memphis, re-elected.

Secretary and Treasurer—Alex. Troup, of New York, re-elected.

The officers elect were then duly installed into their respective offices.

It was resolved that the Union give co-operative support to all sister labor associations.

After which the body adjourned, to meet in Washington City in June next.

THE MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.

Music, Feasting, Dancing, Etc.

The moonlight excursion given by the members of the Memphis Typographical Union in honor of the delegates to the National Typographical Convention, came off last night. The elegant steamer Dan. Able left the landing about half past seven with quite a large number of the brave and fair on board, and moved across the river to the St. Patrick, and after a short delay in taking from the St. Patrick a supply of pantry ware, proceeded up the river about thirty miles, a splendid brass band meanwhile playing popular and soul stirring airs.

As soon as the boat was fairly under way the main hall was cleared for the dance in which nearly fifty couples engaged. Professor Arnold's the string band was in attendance, and those who joined in the giddy mazes of the dance never tripped the light fantastic toe after better music.

Several distinguished gentlemen were on board, and the assemblage of ladies was both large and brilliant. A splendid banquet was given at twelve o'clock, which was no sooner over and the tables cleared than dancing recommenced, and continued till about five o'clock.

The affair was altogether a pleasant and recherche one, and gave most complete satisfaction to all.

A THING LONG NEEDED NOW SUPPLIED.

Pleasure Excursion to Mound City.

Memphis is fast growing into the proportions of a first class city. Like others of its kind it must have its suburban places of pleasure resort. Places to which merchants, business men and others can withdraw from a little respite from the toils and harrassing cares of business hours. Brick and mortar, dusty streets, rumbling drays and a thousand and one other things incident to city life, become monotonous and wearisome to all whose lot is to toil on from day to day; and the most natural result is they look around for some place in the adjacent country to which they can withdraw, if for only a few hours wherein they may enjoy the free air, balmy breezes and all those sweet restorers with which nature is ever so bountiful. New York has Hoboken, Staten and Coney Islands; Philadelphia, Kensington, Fairmount and Chestnut Hill; Richmond, Manchester, Brighton, Cambridge, Lynn and Dorchester; New Orleans, Carrolton, the Lake shore, and other places most lovely and beautiful; St. Louis, Hyde Park, Lafayette, etc.; Cincinnati, Covington, Charleston and Mobile, have similar places of pleasure resort which are daily visited by thousands of their citizens. The pent up denizens of Memphis have hitherto been confined to the city limits, and to such places were open to public fare. With no parks or gardens to visit, they had to be content to remain at home or incur heavy expenses in visiting springs and other places of pleasure resort, and the ambrosia of the gods was poor in comparison. The exquisitely flavored Havana cigars accompanying the feast were enjoyed with as much zest as the rest, and to smoke one would have made a convert of even the Rev. Mr. Trask himself.

In respect, I subscribe myself, truly yours,
W. J. B. LONSDALE.

GRAND PICNIC OF ST. MARY'S CHURCH.—The fair of the season is by many expected to come off on next Monday. It will be for the benefit of St. Mary's Catholic Church, and will be held on the picnic grounds on Wellington street, between den and Vance streets. The ladies of Memphis are taking a great interest in this gala festival and pleasure seekers can no where find promise a more delightful picnic.

RIVER NEWS.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, June 8.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

The weather yesterday was extremely warm. The river here rose two inches in the past twenty-four hours, and is now within three feet of the late high water mark. The river will probably come to a stand this morning, as it is falling at St. Louis and Cairo; it was also falling at Osceola yesterday. The Ohio is falling, with eight and a half feet in the canal. The Arkansas was rising at Little Rock on Tuesday, with forty feet in the channel. The river is over its banks and overflowing the whole country from Fort Smith down to its mouth. White river is declining slowly, with a good stage to Batesville.

BOATS IN PORT.

Dan. Able, Celeste, Florence Traber.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The excursion on the Dan. Able, on Thursday night, given by the Memphis Typographical Union, was a grand affair. There was near three hundred persons on board, including a large delegation of ladies. The entertainment passed off pleasantly and agreeably to all. The banquet, served at midnight, was superb. The table was spread with every luxury the market could afford. Large iced cakes, fruits and sweetmeats of every description adorned the tables. Much credit is due Captain Lee and his officers for the sumptuous feast. There was nothing left undone on the part of the officers of the boat to make the entertainment pleasant and agreeable. The entire boat was appropriated to the excursionists, and every guest on board was made to feel at home. Captain Lee was extremely courteous, and showed a determination to gratify every wish made by the gentlemen in charge of the affair. The clerks, Messrs. Wm. Fields and Lee, also showed marked attention to the guests; and, in fact, all the boat's officers, including the gentlemanly pilots, did all in their power to entertain the excursionists. The steward, a colored man, deserves much credit for getting up such a luxurious feast on so short notice. His cabin crew were attentive, and all endeavored to fill their post with credit to themselves. The delegates to the Convention voted thanks to Captain Lee and his officers for the kind treatment they received. Mr. Clay Rice, Mr. Simpson, Captain Wm. Houston and several other steamboat gentlemen were on hand and took extra attention toward the entertainment. Mr. Mike Pyne, the well known steamboat butcher and ice dealer, donated the ice used on the occasion, for which the members of the Union return thanks.

The Dan. Able is the regular Saturday Vicksburg and bends packet, and will leave the wharf to-day at five p.m., in charge of Captain Jim Lee. She will under all way landings. Mr. Wm. Fields, a courteous and accommodating clerk, will be found on board to attend to the shipping and traveling public.

Colonel Gallaway and lady, through us, return their warmest thanks to Captain Lee and the officers of the Dan. Able for a fine cake and a basket filled with delicious fruits. The magnificent gift will remain as a token, and will be highly appreciated by the Colonel and his amiable lady.

Clay Rice is in favor of abolishing the Maine liquor law. Mr. Simpson, the gentlemanly steward of the St. Patrick, says it is understood that he was delegated to take care of Thompson on the excursion to keep him from climbing the jackstaff.

The fine steamer Florence Traber, Captain Rube Haines, is fast filling up for the Arkansas river, and will leave positively at 5 p. m. to-day. She is a staunch craft and has superb passenger accommodations. Mr. D. Wells, a genial and clever gentleman and attentive clerk, officiates in the office.

The Henry Ames, from New Orleans for St. Louis, passed up yesterday.

The Nick Longworth and Leonidas, from New Orleans, passed up for Cincinnati.

The Pauline Carroll, from St. Louis for New Orleans, passed down.

The Celeste arrived from Little Rock yesterday, and leaves on Tuesday for a return trip. Her officers report the Arkansas big and still rising. The bottom lands from Fort Smith to the mouth of the river are overflowed and the crops are damaged to a great extent. At Swan's Landing the levee has been broken, and the water at Little Rock is up to the railroad depot.

Mr. Henry Turner, a well known Mississippi pilot, was married to Miss Howe, of Cairo, at Columbus, Kentucky, on Tuesday last.

The great low pressure passenger packet the Richmond, in charge of Captain Stut. Neal, will leave this city when the river falls five feet, for Cairo and Louisville. This magnificent steamer has no superior in fare, speed and comfort. Captain John S. Woolfolk, an amiable gentleman, is her chief pursuer, with the clever and obliging Mr. Lodge in charge of the freight department.

The Sam. J. Hale cleared for Cincinnati last evening with 945 bales of cotton.

The Empire cleared for Louisville with 400 bales of cotton and a fair passenger trip.

The Marble City, Captain Tschudi, arrived from St. Louis last night with a fair trip. She is the regular St. Louis packet, and will leave the wharf boat at five p.m., for Cairo and St. Louis. Mr. Charley Parsons is her purser.

Commodore Mari, Wall offers for sale on favorable terms the steamer Flora. She is in good repair.

The Louisiana is due from Louisville bound for New Orleans.

The Louisville was to have left Louisville yesterday for New Orleans.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Wednesday has the following:

The Minnesota will lay up here on her arrival from Memphis where she will receive new boilers and undergo general repairs. The Harry Dean, Captain H. Blaisdell, takes the place of the Minnesota in the Dean line. The Bertha has a fair trip for Arkansas river, carrying 5,000 sacks corn, 300 barrels pork, 100 casks bacon, and a number of passengers. The new hull of the Dexter will be launched at Jeffersonville, in a few days, when Captain Jesse Montgomery will drop it down to New Albany, to receive the machinery of the famous Atlantic. The new boat will be ready for the fall trade. Mr. Lemon, of Covington, Kentucky, has purchased the Lucy Bell for $5,500 per annum. Captain John B. Davis, of Memphis and White river trade, was in the city yesterday, en route for Washington City. The Mary Erwin has withdrawn from the Arkansas trade for the present.

The steamer General Seigel, which recently sunk in the upper Cumberland, has been raised, and will be put on the docks at Paducah to be repaired.

The R. E. Lee will extend her next trip to Louisville, in order to give Charley Clark another glimpse of the mansion of the Western wilds.

St. Louis exchanges of Thursday have the following:

River falling yesterday very slowly; Upper Mississippi falling all the way down from St. Paul; Lower Mississippi falling; Upper Missouri rising, Illinois falling. The weather was hot. More rain was expected last night. Business lively on the wharf. Rece

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—Yesterday the steam boiler in the manufacturing establishment in the rear of 204 Chestnut street exploded, demolishing the whole building, which was five stories high. It is impossible to ascertain the number of lives lost. Seven men have been taken out, two were dead. Reports says forty were in the building.

Considerable damage was done to the adjoining houses by flying fragments. As soon as possible the work of taking out the dead will be commenced. Thirteen were taken out, of whom five died at the hospital. The upper part of the building was occupied by Miller & Reider, calico print engravers. Reider is believed to be buried in the ruins. Twelve are buried in the ruins.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Advices were received at the Executive Department yesterday of outrages committed by Brownlow's militia. Brownlow telegraphs that he has made several arrests for these offences.

Mr. Durant has received a dispatch from General Sheridan requesting a reconsideration of his declination of the office of Governor of Louisiana. Mr. Durant, however, insists on refusing.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—A new island has been discovered in the Pacific upon which, it is thought, several vessels have been wrecked. The schooner Carolina Mills discovered the wreck of the Canton, which was reported to have left Sitca in 1861 and never since heard from.

A vessel will leave here shortly for the Russian territory, with a number of scientific men to make a general reconnoissance of the coast, and report particulars to the Government.

NEW YORK, June 7.—A Paris special says it was the Czar of Russia whose assassination was attempted yesterday. The assailant was instantly cut down, severely wounded, and made prisoner. The supposed murderer is a Pole.

A Savannah correspondent says the prizes brought there by Maximilian's war vessel has been ordered on to New York.

Judge Kelly was received by his political friends in Philadelphia last night, and in an address to them he referred to the Mobile affair by saying that the riot was not charged to the white citizens or to the disloyal authorities as to Andrew Johnson, who had appointed to posts of profit these recent Northerners who provoked disturbance by inflammatory addresses in public journals the day before his arrival. The riots, he said, were premeditated, and not brought on by any words of his own.

PARIS, June 7.—Another attempt upon the life of Napoleon was made to-day while he was returning from Grand Review in Champs DeMars given in honor of the Czar of Russia, who accompanied him. The shot was fired at his carriage by some person in the crowd, but fortunately neither of the Emperors were injured. The incident created great excitement. The assassin is not yet arrested but cannot long escape.

CANDIA, June 7.—Information from Crete confirms previous reports of the Turks having been everywhere badly defeated, and the Cretan insurgents uniformly successful in every encounter with the forces under command of Omar Pacha.

MONETARY.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, June 8, 1867.

The money market continues steady and devoid of interest, with no change worthy of note. The discount market rules steady, with the rates of last week, and unchanged. Gold in New York was steady at 136¾@136¾. The market here was steady at 134@134½. Silver steady and buying at 1 @128.

EXCHANGE.—Is quiet; buying at ¼ off, and selling at par to ¼c premium.

CITY SCRIP.—The market yesterday was firm and steady, with a fair demand; brokers buy at 63@63 and sell at 65@67.

COUNTY WARRANTS.—Steady; buying at 88 and selling at 90@92.

POLICE SCRIP.—Continues dull at 75@80.

SOUTHERN MONEY.—Quiet and steady; a small demand and little offering. Exchange is confined to small lots: Bank of Tennessee, 1 @95c; Planters' Bank, 94c; Union Bank, 90@95c; Union Bank Certificates, 85c; Bank of Chattanooga, 90c; Bank of Commerce, 90c; Bank of Nashville, —; Bank of Memphis, par; Bank of the Tennessee, 95c; Bank of Paris, 95c; Bank of Union, 95c; Bank of Knoxville, 42c; Bank of Tennessee, 45c; Hiwdee Bank, 45c; Bank of Commerce, 90c; Commercial Bank, par; Merchants' Bank, 90c; Northern Bank, 95c; Ocoee Bank, 85c; Bank of Shelbyville, 80c; Southern Bank, 25c; Farmers' Bank, 80c; Life and General Insurance Bank, 80c.

The Baltimore American says a counterfeit ten dollar note of the Third National bank of Philadelphia, exceedingly well executed, is afloat in some of our city banks yesterday. The signatures of the Cashier and President are perfect imitations of the genuine. The note is rather dark, and the engraving, upon close inspection, not very close. It is however undoubtedly the best counterfeit of a National bank note yet seen, and is well calculated to deceive.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, June 8, 1867.

Trade in the leading markets remains quiet and inactive, with a small local and shipping trade doing. The markets are well supplied, with prices steady and unchanged. The Arkansas river, for the past week, has been extremely high for this time of the year, and has overflowed all the bottom lands. Much fear is apprehended lest the crops will be destroyed. At Little Rock, on Tuesday, the river was still rising and is overflowing all the low lands bordering on the Mississippi river, the low lands bordering on the Mississippi the worms are making sad havoc in the crops. The crops between here and Vicksburg, bordering on the Mississippi, are reported to be partially destroyed by the floods and cut worms.

COTTON.—The market yesterday was dull and quiet, with light offerings, few transactions, and prices drooping. Holders during the day were not disposed to sell at buyer's rates or make concessions; and consequently, no buyer was little doing. Sales for the day foot up small: middling, 24½@24¾c; bright middling, 25c; low middling, 23½@23¾c; strict middling, 24@24½c. The market closed dull and heavy, with a decline of ½c to ¾c during the day. Receipts for the week, 695 bales; exports, 3,151 bales; stock on hand, 1,619. The New York market was reported dull and unchanged. The Liverpool circulars of May 24th reported the market but not quotably lower. Uplands, 11¾d; Orleans, 11¾d. Sales for the week, 16,800 bales to speculators, and exports, 34,000 bales; stock on hand, 852,000, of which 468,000 is American; week's receipts, 140,000.

COYNER'S

WHITE & BLACK SULPHUR SPRINGS

THIS WELL KNOWN WATERING PLACE, situated in the mountains of Virginia, on the line of, and in full view of the VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD, will be again opened for the reception of visitors on the 1st of June, 1867.

Persons coming from the South and West will arrive at the Springs in about ten hours from Bristol, Tenn. Those leaving Baltimore, Washington, Richmond and Petersburg, will arrive the same evening at the Springs.

Visitors desiring to stop, by informing the Conductor when they strike the Virginia and Tennessee railroad of the fact, will be landed at the platform immediately opposite the Springs.

The undersigned (formerly of Richmond) takes pleasure in informing his friends, and the public generally, that he has removed to this place with the intention of making it his permanent residence, and will SPARE NEITHER TROUBLE NOR EXPENSE to render it pleasant and agreeable to his guests.

There are FIVE SULPHUR SPRINGS, the medicinal qualities of which are so generally and favorably known that it is unnecessary to enumerate them here.

A FINE BAND will be in attendance during the season.

For terms, &c., address the undersigned at Bonsacks, Roanoke county, Va.

COE'S

DYSPEPSIA CURE.

THIS GREAT REMEDY FOR ALL

DISEASES OF THE STOMACH

IS the discovery of the inventor of COE'S valuable Cough Balsam, while experimenting for his own health. It cured him, and has been the means for him which before had yielded to nothing but chloroform.

The almost daily testimony from various parts of the country encourages us to believe there is no disease caused by a disordered stomach it will not speedily cure.

PHYSICIANS INDORSE AND USE IT!

Ministers Give Testimony of Its Efficacy!

And from all directions we receive tidings of cures performed

Dyspepsia!
It is sure to cure!

Heartburn!
One dose will cure.

Sick-Headache!
It has proved in hundreds of cases to be the only remedy.

Headache and Dizziness!
It stops in thirty minutes.

Acidity of the Stomach!
It corrects at once.

Rising of the Food!
It stops immediately.

Distress after Eating!
One dose will remove.

Cholera Morbus!
Rapidly yields to a few doses.

Bad Breath!
Will be changed with half a bottle.

IT IS PERFECTLY HARMLESS!

Its unprecedented success is owing to the fact that it cures by assisting nature to re-assert her sway in the system.

Nearly every dealer in the United States sells it at ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

THE HICKS STEAM ENGINE

MANUFACTURED BY THE

HICKS STEAM ENGINE COMPANY,

OF DELAWARE,

BLANTON DUNCAN, Pres't.

THOS. R. SHARP, Gen'l Sup't.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the public to this wonderful Steam Engine, now on exhibition at the

Avalanche Office, 22 Jefferson Street,

Which is cheaper, lighter, less intricate, occupies less space, consumes less fuel than any other engine, and is superior in every essential quality. It has a variable cut-off, is reversible, and the friction of a double set of valves with their multiform attachments, and is the superior horse power.

AWARDED THE GOLD MEDAL

At the Maryland Institute Fair, in October, 1866, over all other engines in this invention. It therefore forms the most radical and entire change in steam engines which has occurred since the days of Watt, being durable, accurate, and economical in operation as no other engine is which has gone before it. Call and see it at the office of the Avalanche, or address

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

At the wonderful revelations made by the great Astrologist

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

SHE reveals secrets as mortal never knew. She restores to happiness those who, from disfeul events, calamities, have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information of absent friends, tells you the business you are best adapted to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages, and tells you the very day you will marry, describes the person, and even the very name of the future husband or wife. Tells you your thoughts, and by her science unfolds to you the secret of your life, and reveals secrets of your past, present and future. She has in her possession the most wonderful charm ever known to man, which will control the affections of those you love, or those who may oppose your union, causing speedy marriage. Those who are in trouble, or have been disappointed in love, or have been slighted by their lovers, should not fail to consult this wonderful woman, for she will certainly do you good. Those who are single and wish to marry, should consult her, and she will tell you the very day you will marry, describe the person, and even the very name of your future husband or wife. Those who are married and unhappy in their domestic relations, should consult her, for she can and will reunite the hearts that have been separated, and cause the two to live happily together. Those who are in the financial world, and who are about to make investments, should consult her, for she can and will tell you whether you will succeed or not. Those who are about to change their location
